Echo From The McClintock Case

The damage suits of James D. McClintock vs. A. B. Thomasson and other members of the Republican County Committee in which the plaintiff was awarded damages aggregating $15,000 for slander, took a sensational turn yesterday, when orders of attachment were issued and served on the six banks of Paris, tying up funds alleged to be on deposit to the credit of several of the defendants. At the banking house of Geo. Alexander & Co., $600 was attached, alleged to belong to Monin Moore, one of the defendants.

Thaw Declared Sane.

The lunacy commission appointed to inquire into the question of the sanity of Harry Thaw, the now celebrated slayer of Stanford White, made a decision, agreeing unanimously, that Thaw is sane. All the members of the Thaw family were present when the announcement was made.

The report, which covered three typewritten pages, was not made public. Judge Fitzgerald discharged the jury until Monday and declined to grant more time for District Attorney Jerome to apply to the Appellate Court for a writ of prohibition.

Lexington Race Meet.

At Lexington Wednesday, articles were prepared and adopted incorporating the Kentucky Association for the purpose of perpetuating the racing game and saving the historic old Association grounds. Immediate steps will be taken toward holding a race meeting April 27 to May 4.

The incorporators are J. N. Camden, Jr., O. H. Chenault, Jas. E. Clay, Garrett D. Wilson, H. P. Headley, John G. Stoll, D. Gray Faulconer and others. The authorized capital stock is $70,000, of which $35,000 has been subscribed and paid in. Among the subscribers are Woodford Clay, Catesby Woodford, and James E. Clay, of this county.

The spring meeting at this famous old track is now an absolute certainty.

Resolutions By Paris Elks Lodge

IN MEMORIAM.

There passed into eternal life on the 18th day of March, 1907, the spirit of Edgar Hill.

Paris Lodge, No. 373, B. P. O. Elks, wish to testify to their brother's manly character, his sterling business integrity, the sweetness and purity of his home life and his unassailable honor as a man and an Elk.

The lodge deprecates his loss not only to itself but to the community and takes this opportunity to sympathize with his faithful and devoted wife, as well as with his father, his brothers and his sisters in their irreparable loss.

In conformity with a resolution of the lodge, a copy of this testimony is sent to the bereaved family and also a copy is ordered published in the local papers.

P. I. McCARTHY,
WM. GRANNAN,
J. M. RUSSELL,
Committee.

IN MEMORIAM.

Brother Benjamin Perry departed this life on the 25th day of March, 1907.

We, his brother Elks, have already inscribed on the tablets of love and memory his virtues and manly qualities so deeply that they can never be erased or forgotten, but pursuant to a resolution of this lodge appointing us a committee for that purpose, we on behalf of the lodge desire to make public the facts that he was one of the most respected citizens of this community, an honest, faithful and efficient officer while occupying various stations in public life; that in private life, he was an upright, kind-hearted and charitable citizen, a model husband and father, an Elk with reproach and always a man, true, and high minded gentleman.

This lodge sustains an irreparable loss in his death because he was a typical example of fraternity and good fellowship and faithful to all the tenets and obligations of the order and we take this means of expressing to his wife and family our heartfelt sympathy and to say to them and to all of them that we believe his untimely departure was most unfortunate for them and for the community at large.

It is resolved by Paris Lodge, No. 373, B. P. O. Elks, that a copy of this testimonial be sent to his family and that a copy of it be published in the local papers.

N. C. FISHER,
R. K. McCARNEY,
B. M. RENICK,
Committee.

PERTINENT PICKINGS.

One of our readers wants to know the definition of the word, "mollycoddle." Such ignorance is lamentable. It is a new species of the "lollapalooza," hitherto confined to the dude species.

While the local banker is not always infallible in his judgment, it can be put down as a pretty sure thing that there would be millions less hard earned money squandered every year if no outside investments were made except on his recommendation. If you have a bonanza mining enterprise and it is so shaky a financial backing that your banker wouldn't put his money into it, it will be a pretty safe thing to steer shy of.

This is the time of year when a little attention to conditions in and around the home and premises brings in its returns. In the city there is plenty of opportunity to better conditions. Look after your cellar and see that it is in a good sanitary condition. Look after the ash piles and rubbish heaps in the alley and back yards. Don't let the weeds get a start on you. Then above everything else sprinkle the street in front of your business house and residence a few times daily, and help keep the dust down.

A traveling man who visits Paris frequently tells this one: "I had to stay over in Paris one Sunday not long ago. At noon I went to a restaurant and called for some oysters. They were brought in unopened. I asked the waiter: 'Here, why didn't you open these oysters?' And honestly I nearly dropped dead when he answered: 'Why boss, don't you know this is Sunday and everything's closed today?'"

There is a precocious little girl out on Vine street who is determined to know a few things. At dinner recently she said to her mother, "Mamma, where were you born?" The mother, much amused, replied, "Why, in Maysville, dear." "And where was papa born?" "In Paris," "And I was born in Lexington wasn't I?" "Yes, dear." The little girl looked gravely from one to another and then said, slowly: "Ain't it funny that we should all meet like this?"

A Paris newspaper man, who keeps an eye out for such things records the following absurd sentences, each made glaring by the omission of a single letter:

"The conflict was dreadful and the enemy was repulsed with great laughter."

"When the president's wife entered the humble sitting room of the mine she was politely offered a hair."

"A man was yesterday arrested on the charge of having eaten a cabman for demanding more than his fare."

"An employe in the service of the Government was accused of having stolen a small ox from the mail. The stolen property was found in his vest pocket."

"The Russian soldier Kackinoffskewsky was found dead with a long word sticking in his throat."

A Commercial Club, with a large membership, composed of leading business men, has been organized at Carlisle. Something of the kind "happened" in Paris a long time ago. There was a great deal of "organization" and many "meetings," but "the results" seem to have passed into the great ocean of oblivion that engulfs all half-hearted enterprises.

"Ah," said the good lady as she paused beside a cot on which an emaciated man lay. "What is this poor man's trouble?"

"Drink," said the patient, "and only one drink at that."

"Terrible, terrible! Oh, what a warning this should be to every young man. I wish I might bring my Sunday school class here to see this awful case. One drink and—"

"It was a drink of Houston creek water, ma'am, that hadn't been boiled."

ARE you getting Boys' Clothing with the best quality and style? Are you, for a fact, or is it doubtful? There is no use trying to convince yourself that you can buy as good clothing anywhere else as we handle; it is useless to try to save money over the prices we ask. To assume that you get the service or satisfaction from "cheaper" clothing is to argue that right is not might, that merit has not power, that value does not count.
